Introduction

In the year 2059 the colonization and long distance space travel vessel Macross Frontier encounters problems with drunken local football hooligans also known as Varja. With the help of the SMS (some private military unit equipped with top notch space planes/battlemechs), several nuclear weapons and two singing whores infected with space AIDS, they where able to kill some drunken football manager whore and getting the Varjas back into their Pub. 50 years earlier some german guy with no time decided to create a papercraft of the main fighter used by the SMS. The VF-25.

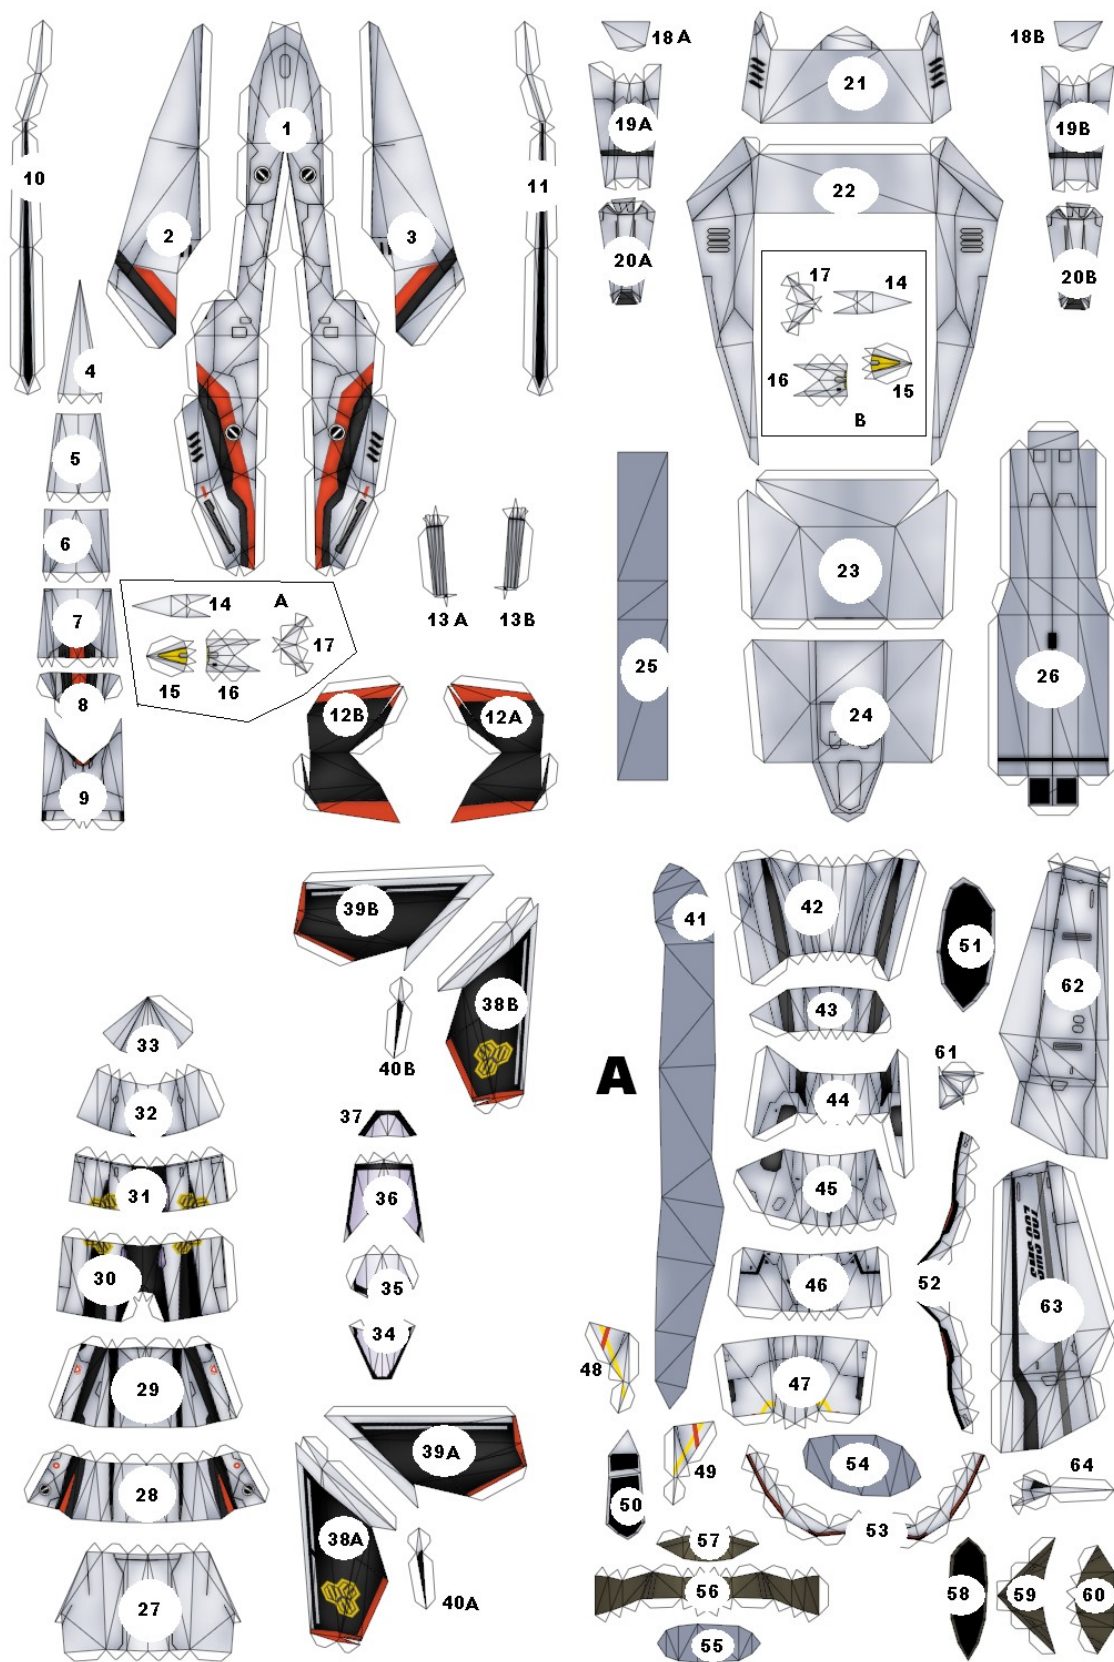

I'm really satisfied with this one. It has some small parts but even with my unnatural huge hands I was able to build it. If you're still not able to do it, use a pincette instead. Don't forget to prefold stuff several times to make out how it works the right way. Have fun with this thing, I already had mine :D
