

A net of a cube is shown. It consists of six squares arranged in a cross shape. The central square is shaded black. The four squares immediately adjacent to it (top, bottom, left, and right) are white. The sixth square, attached to the rightmost square, is also white. Dashed lines indicate the fold lines for the net.

